Doctor of Business Administration DBA

Program Information

A Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) is a professional degree representing the highest qualification in management.

The Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) program is designed for professionals who want to further their career with the most advanced business degree program. The DBA program addresses the learning needs and objectives of senior business managers, consultants and university professors. Its primary objective is to produce graduates who can contribute to the advancement of their professions and to the expansion of knowledge and awareness of contemporary strategic issues and practices.

Our curriculum has a two-tiered focus. Students examine current theories, practices, and issues in business; train in research methods; and study the relationships between business and social and global issues. We believe doctoral students must be adept in all these areas to be successful contributors to the expansion of knowledge and improvement of business practices. For the Research Methodology, students conduct original research on a topic of current importance and personal interest. The thesis should impact and help illuminate the strategic issues they face in their professions.

The program encourages students to accept the added responsibility of a shared commitment to the advancement of their professions and to upholding the highest ethical standards in the private or public sector.

Why Experts In Their Field Choose DBA

- A Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) is a professional degree representing the highest qualification in management. It is a doctorate designed for working professionals who may not be able to pursue a PhD due to time commitments.
- The Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) program is designed for professionals who want to further their career with the most advanced professional degree program. The DBA program addresses the learning needs and objectives of senior business managers, consultants and university professors. Its primary objective is to produce graduates who can contribute to the advancement of their professions and to the expansion of knowledge and awareness of contemporary strategic issues and practices.

With a focus on applied research and practical insights, the DBA prepares you to influence business landscapes, cultivate global networks, and make impactful contributions to the evolving world of international business leadership.

- Here, professionals combine their business knowledge with analytical skills to design and execute research studies that have real-world impact, with many going on to publish their work in leading journals.
